ACCOLEDS 1992

In December 1992 at the University of Calgary, Librarians from nine COPPUL institutions across the four Prairie and Pacific provinces gathered for the first time to discuss “data”, a new-to-most-of-us collection format, along with its associated technical and service challenges.

At the time, while most of us didn’t know very much about “data”, we did know from experience that cooperation, group collaboration, and resource sharing would be the key to mastering this new resource. A few months after this first meeting, our newly formed group signed a data consortium federation agreement with the ICPSR.

The topic was: An Introduction to Library Data Services.
